QUESTION 2

Your company has a Microsoft 365 subscription.

You need to implement the security policy.

What should you do?

- B. From the OneDrive admin center, configure the Storage settings
- C. From the Security&Compliance admin center, create a data loss prevention (DLP) policy
- D. Form the OneDrive admin center, configure the Compliance settings

Answer: B

Explanation:

If a user's Office 365 account is deleted, their OneDrive for Business files are preserved for a period of time that you can specify.

To set the retention time for OneDrive accounts

1. Open the OneDrive admin center, and select Storage in the left pane.

The screenshot shows the 'Storage' settings page in the Office 365 admin center. The left sidebar contains navigation links: OneDrive, Home, Sharing, Sync, Storage (selected), Device access, Compliance, and Notifications. The main content area is titled 'Storage' and includes the instruction: 'Use these settings to specify storage limits for new users and retention for deleted users.' There are two input fields: 'Default storage' with a value of '1024' and unit 'GB', and 'Days to retain files in OneDrive after a user account is marked for deletion' with a value of '30' and unit 'days'. A blue 'Save' button is at the bottom.

2. Enter the number of days you want to retain OneDrive files in the Days to retain files in OneDrive after a user account is marked for deletion box.
The count begins as soon as you delete the user account in the Microsoft 365 admin center, even though the deletion process takes time. The maximum value is 3650 days (ten years).
